Mr. Geo. W. Foster

West Branch Public Lib.

Boston, Mass.

My dear Sir:

Replying to yours of 25th inst.
I will say: Paul Jennings to whom you refer, left a son who for some years was employed at the Norfolk Navy Yard.
Whether he is there now or not, I am not able to say.

As to his writings I am sure he wrote nothing that was published, but his Reminiscences of President Madison. I think he was buried in Washington. He died about 1872, I am now trying to establish the exact date.

The Library has a copy of the little book of poems published by Bishop D. A. Payne.

Hoping this will meet your needs I beg to remain

Very truly yours:

Daniel Murray
